MAJURA PINES MTB TRAIL

TRAIL DESCRIPTION

Voted by XC champion Paul Rowney as his favourite all-time trail, Majura Pines has been the host of both National DH and endurance events. Contains both fast flowing and technical singletrack, with a myriad of gully crossings, bridges and obstacles. The large trail network provides riders with endless ride options, which can mix quality XC courses with technical downhill runs all in the same ride.

TYPES OF TRAILS

XC, DH

DIFFICULTY LEVEL

Trails closest to the road are suitable for beginner and intermediate riders. Trails generally get more technical as they go up the hill.

Riders are recommended to proceed with caution on unknown trails, as many beginner and intermediate tracks at Majura Pines include intermittent advanced sections.

MTB TRAIL USERS CODE OF CONDUCT

1. Ride on open trails only
2. Stick to the trails
3. Keep control of your bicycle
4. Never scare animals
5. Plan ahead
6. Do not build any unauthorised trails
7. Keep left when passing oncoming traffic

Do not ride outside of your ability.

Riding of mountain bikes in Canberra Nature Parks are restricted to fire trails and marked multi-use trails only.

Many ACT Forests are working forests. Trail areas may therefore be subject to harvesting activity and can be rendered unusable at short notice. Please follow any signs or directions from staff when plantation management activities are occurring.

DIRECTIONS AND ACCESS POINTS

Majura Pines is accessible in one of two ways:

1. Head along Majura Rd, either North past the airport or south from the Federal Highway. The Pines are on the western side of the road, just north of the Innabaanya Camp ground.
2. Take the main firetrail from McKenzie Street in Hackett due east. The entrance to the forest is via the horse gate at the top of the saddle.

CLOSEST FOOD OUTLETS

There are a range of eating options available at both Hackett and Ainsle shops, a short ride away from the western entrance to the forest (via the horse gate). Edgar's pub at Ainsle is a favourite among local riders, and offers a great breakfast menu up until midday at very good prices.
